

Global Emergency Care Collaborative Newsletter – Spring 2025

Spring is here!

At long last it feels like the thaw is really happening - hopefully we've been sustaining you with our activity and updates throughout what has felt like a truly Narnian winter.

News and developments

- GECCo Gurus success

Thanks to all of our wonderful gurus (pictured right) who have made the past few months such a success. These small group sessions are invaluable to participants looking for advice and inspiration for potential global health careers. Our upcoming session flyer comes alongside the newsletter

- Global Health & Emergency Care Research Summit

Nice to see the early bird tickets disappearing - we still have tickets remaining, at the full price of £50. Look out for more detail on the event itself as we develop an exciting programme for you. Meanwhile make sure you don't miss the abstract deadline at the end of April - thanks to everyone who has already submitted!

- GECCo support

Wonderful to have more hands on deck and some friendly new faces within the team organising GECCo's activity. We range from students through to Consultants (and hope to keep growing our MDT involvement - so emergency nurses, paramedics, rehab specialists/pharmacists working in the ED here's looking at you! Even if you aren't in the speciality of EM but you still have an interest and passion for emergency care and global health you are very welcome.

GECCo On Tour

We are pleased to hear about some recent research being accepted in Emergency Medical Journal highlighting the impact on UK emergency care practitioners of working in global health. Our GECCo meeting in Edinburgh brought one research team member aboard and the lead author penned one of our recent blogs.

GECCo were also to be found at the Oxford Society of Emergency Medicine's annual conference! Read all about it on our GECCo on tour page.

Opportunities

We regularly update our website with the latest opportunities in global EM from external sources. Please see a selection of our most recently found opportunities below and head to our website for more.

- Bristol Royal Infirmary are once again recruiting to their Global Health Fellowship programme (see flyer)
- The Healthcare in Conflict Research Network Series is taking place in Cambridge in April (see flyer)
- ChelWest are hosting a Hot Topics in Global Health event in June

Getting involved

New team members are always welcome in GECCo- please reach out to us if you want to collaborate no matter where you are based. Prior experience in global health is wonderful and welcome but is definitely not required: just some enthusiasm for it and a bit of energy and time.

We also always welcome new ideas- if there is something you'd like to see us doing, please come and do it with us!
